

The United Nations stands ready to support Member States in taking effective action to address this serious humanitarian and security challenge.

Thank you.