While it welcomed the he reports during that period, concerns remain that the potential of the voluntary arning is not being reached. In that context, the Committee recommends launching or rescue the Sustainable Development Goals. The "voluntary national reviews – away from descriptive narratives towards more in-depth analysis of successes and on of structural obstacles. The Committee further recommended improvements to so through broader stakeholder participation, feedback loops that bring lessons and decision-making, and greater space for civil society and shadow reports at the le development.
