malpractice and, in this case, no evidence of sexual assault". Regarding Ms. Likukela's specific claims, Dr. R. found that:

... The practice used during the examination is reasonable and appropriate medical practice for a patient presenting with the symptoms that Ms. Likukela had;

... The pathology examination following surgery confirmed that Ms. Likukela had a developmental condition (present from birth) that was consistent with her symptoms.

... On 12 May 2015, the ABCC, at its 48th meeting, reviewed Ms. Likukela's claim for compensation under Appendix D. Having considered the medical reports and the advice of the Medical Director, MSD, the ABCC recommended that
