

Mr. Secretary General of the United Nations

Your Excellences Honorable Guests

Peace, mercy and blessings of God

I am pleased to head the delegation of the Republic of Iraq participating in the Food Systems Dialogue Conference Food security is one of the most Agriculture in all its stages, from the field to the consumer, and focus on agricultural manufacturing industries and aimed at transferring and settling technology to reduce production losses, agricultural marketing to maximize value chains and enhance the consumption pattern. It is worth mentioning the existing cooperation with FAO, European Union, World Food Program, IFAD, International Fund and other organizations and countries that have contributed to supporting the implementation of our agricultural plans and programs. Finally, we hope that international contributions will be strengthened through this Food Systems Summit Dialogue Conference, which is an important part of the Action to achieve the Sustainable Development Goals and to help define the future direction of food systems and accelerate teamwork.

They are highly appreciated and respected.