Interactive dialogue 1: Transforming global governance and turbocharging the implementation of the 2030 agenda for sustainable development.

The urgent need for reform of the global financial architecture has been an ongoing concern. Significant changes are underway to modernize the system to respond more effectively to current global challenges such as poverty, climate change, conflicts and address all forms of inequalities while accelerating progress to achieve the Sustainable Development Goals. There is a recognized need for change, including to increase liquidity and ease pressure on developing countries, which

How can we make sure that the development and use of digital technologies foster an inclusive, open, safe and secure digital space in which everyone, especially women and children, is protected from online harms?

Interactive dialogue 4: The Future Starts Now: enhancing the global system for current and future generations.

Our actions today will impact the future of billions of those yet to be born. Therefore, the world must accelerate progress towards achieving the Sustainable Development Goals, addressing existing and emerging challenges, including climate change, biodiversity loss, pollution, as well as sea-level rise and other environmental concerns, pandemics, conflicts, nuclear weapons, while pursuing progress and a future that is more just and sustainable for the people and the planet.

This interactive dialogue will facilitate discussions on policy actions and collaboration for the stewardship of our planet and to safeguard the needs and interests of the present and future generations by eradicating poverty and hunger, reducing inequality, promoting, protecting and respecting the human rights of all as well as addressing the vulnerability and preparedness of the most vulnerable around the world. It will also address gender equality and the empowerment of women and girls, a foundational component to unlocking progress across all the SDGs. Ensuring the rights of women and girls is essential to achieving justice and inclusion, fostering economies that benefit everyone and securing a more prosperous, equitable, and sustainable future for present and future generations.
